Contribution Functionality

1. Add or edit an interface translation.

Thank you for helping us translate the new PanImages interface into a new language.

This will make it easier for speakers of the new language to use PanImages.

On the next page, we will show you phrases that are part of the interface text. Below each phrase is a box for you to type the translation in the new interface language.

Please copy any green bracketed text directly into your translation unchanged, including the brackets. For example, if asked to translate "Searching in [language]." You would copy [language] into the appropriate place in your translation unmodified.

If you select an interface language that already exists in PanImages, some of the fields will be automatically filled in for you. Feel free to review and modify this text.

If you are unsure of how to translate a phrase, just leave it blank.

Please note that submissions are now going live on PanImages immediately. Also, we cannot accept submissions without a translation of the language name, with fewer than 5 translations, or with greater than (>) or less than (<) signs.

Please select the interface language you wish to create or modify:

(If your language is not in the list, please email us at: panimages@cs.washington.edu)

Please provide your email address in case we have questions about your submission and so we may notify you of major modification to PanImages.

Please translate these phrases into Abnaki (Eastern)

Abnaki (Eastern)
 (This is the name of the language as it will appear in the list of interface languages. Your new interface language will not work correctly if you do not put anything in this box.)

Text is displayed from right to left: (Only check this box if text in your language is displayed from right to left -- such as with Hebrew and Arabic.)

There was an error connecting to the server. No response or an empty response was received. Your request cannot be processed at this time

Note: PanImages translates only single words or simple phrases found in its dictionary. If you know a translation of your phrase into another language, you could add your phrase and its translation into PanImages's dictionary. You may also try a "Show Images" query.

Dysfunctionality

Other issues:

- Repeated login required during session.
- “Show Images” option (similar to “I’m Feeling Lucky”) chooses a few languages but only one sense. Maybe it’s not such a good idea.
- All sense definitions in English, although the UI is nominally multilingual.
- As sources increase in number, one pane per source may become unwieldy. Merge into single pane?
